

Due to a combination of equipment malfunction and manpower shortages, Breeze Printing, the company that prints the Tower, will not be able to print as scheduled this month.

This means that instead of delivery to the HOA office on February 25 (the last Friday of the month) for distribution on the first of the month, the papers will not be dropped off until March 3. This will push delivery back to the weekend of March 5.

We will, however, post a digital version of the Tower on the Del Tura HOA website and Facebook page.

Rest assured, as soon as the paper is delivered to us, the distribution team, headed by Sue Brown, will do its very best to get it to you in a timely manner.

We know that many of you rely on the Tower for information and updates in our community and we apologize for this unforeseen delay.
